

REBELS CAPTURED CITY OF SHANGHAI

REVOLUTIONISTS QUIETLY TAKE POSSESSION OF THE NATIVE
PORTION AND ARSENAL.

A NEW CONSTITUTION

Plans for Changing the Method of Government Is Being Discussed
In Peking Today.

Shanghai, China, Nov. 3.—The arsenal and native city of Shanghai was taken over by the revolutionists this afternoon without any opposition.

The rebels expect to occupy Wu kung, ten miles north of here, today, and Nanking and Chung King tomorrow.

Some foreign warships had landed marines in this city before the rebels took possession.

The foreign volunteers have taken every precaution to protect the concessions.

It is reported the rebels at Kih
Kiang seized the British tugboat Sampson.

The province of Yun Nan, in southwestern China, has declared its independence, according to reports received here.

Complete Draft.
Peking, Nov. 3.—The national assembly has completed a draft, the basis of which proposes to construct a new constitution for China. It was accepted by the throne.

It provides for the perpetuity of the Manchu dynasty, but the power of the emperor is restricted. Imperial princes are ineligible for the office of premier.

Delayed Despatches.
Hong Kong, Nov. 3.—Delayed despatches from Hankow describe the situation there on the night of Nov. 1, by saying an appalling conflagration was sweeping the city and fighting was in progress in several quarters between the rebels and loyalists.

Sound Death Knell.
Peking, China, Nov. 3.—Gen. Li Yuan Huang's reported refusal to discuss peace with Yuan Shi Kai, now premier, except on a basis of the emperor's ab-dication, is regarded here today as sounding the death knell of the Manchu dynasty.

Wants Republic.
General Li, the rebel commander, is said to be standing firm for the permanency of the republic of which he recently proclaimed himself president.

Fear Outbreak.
An outbreak of the Manchurian element in Peking is growing hourly more threatening. Although outnumbered by the Chinese, the Manchus favor killing the former. They are better armed.—It is believed an outbreak will not be long hence.

At Hankow.
Advices from Hankow today say the native quarter has been entirely burned and government troops are in partial control although in some sections fierce street fighting against the rebels continues.

No Prisoners.
No rebel prisoners are taken, it was said, the combatants preferring to die fighting. Corpses are thickly scattered everywhere and the imperialists continue to butcher the inhabitants mercilessly. Since the fighting began in and about Hankow it is estimated between 5,000 and 7,000 have been killed.

Easily Taken.
Shanghai, Nov. 3.—Shanghai's fall before the rebels has been anticipated for a day, the government officials having already left the native quarter and taking refuge in the European section.
The revolutionists are expected to seize the river forts above Shanghai tonight and Nanking and Chung King tomorrow.

Provisional Government.
Following the capture of the native quarter the rebels formally notified the foreign consuls of the establishment of a provisional republic.

in the northwest, while among its graduates are numbered scores of men who have distinguished themselves in the profession, in commerce and in the political world.
The first four days of the celebration will be occupied with alumni reunions, cises. The semi-centennial celebra-

EXHIBITION OF LAND AND IRRIGATION IS HELD IN NEW YORK

Opened Today and Will Continue for Ten Days.—Orchards and Farms
Given Away.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Nov. 3.—The fair Diana from her lofty position on the pinnacle of the Madison Square Garden never looked down upon a more interesting or more important exhibition than that which opened in the big amphitheatre today under the official title of the American Land and Irrigation Expon-sition. The exhibition will continue ten days. Its object is two-fold—to stimulate interest in farming and improvement of the land and to show the great rewards which can be gained from scientific agriculture.

The show is the outcome of combined efforts by the United States government, the railroads of the country and various financial and agricultural interests. One of the reasons for holding the exposition in New York City is to give the 7,000,000 people living in this vicinity an idea of the vast resources of the country and of the tremendous practical advances which have been made in recent years.

The exhibits include specimens of soil and products, maps and relief models of areas which is desired to exploit, illustrations of agriculture in all its branches, including dry farming and irrigation methods. To further demonstrate the possibilities of American soils the management has provided moving pictures and illustrated lectures. The display is not confined to any one section of the country.
While the South, the middle states and the far west are most largely represented, there are also exhibits to show that New England and the East in general are not out of the running in the agricultural race. Even Canada is represented by an attractive display of agricultural products from the prairie provinces and British Columbia.

Not the least interesting feature of the exposition is the number of valuable prizes offered. A compelling magnet will be given away daily to visitors by popular allotment of a farm, orchard, irrigated tract or grain land in various parts of the United States. Among the prize allotments are 16 acres of grain land in Montana, donated by President Elliott of the Northern Pacific railway; ten acres of irrigated land near Howell, New Mexico, given by the Western Irrigation and Reclamation company of New Mexico; and a five-acre peach orchard near Tallahassee, Fla., donated by the Florida Peaches Endowment company.

The prizes to be distributed among the exhibitors include a $1,500 cup for the best barley grown in the United States; a $1,000 cup offered by James J. Hill for the best hundred pounds of wheat produced in the United States;
one thousand dollars in gold to be given by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, of the Canadian Pacific railway, for the best hundred pounds of wheat raised in either North or Central America; and $500 in gold to the person who produces the best twenty-five boxes of apples. Crops valued at $1,000 each will be given for the best yield of cat-tles, hogs, oats, potatoes and sugar beets.

Down the Annual Tax Levy
$33,000.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Eau Claire, Wis., Nov. 3.—The commission plan of city government has shown its benefits in Eau Claire although it has been on trial here less than two years. Yesterday the committee fixed the annual city tax levy at $97,700, or $23,000 less than last year, and if this city's share of the county tax is no larger than last year, the tax rate this year will be the lowest it has been for many years.

more than four.

in official circles that the Turks and Arabs have captured all the outer forts previously held by the Italians at Tripoli. The Italians yet hold the fortifications within the city.

Concentrate Troops.
Vienna, Austria, Nov. 3.—Austrian troops are being concentrated on the Italian frontier. It is believed, because of Italy's failure to observe the Austrian warning that Turkish campaigning must be confined to Africa. News here today is that the Italian fleet has departed from Tripoli for Turkish waters, presumably to start a campaign wreckage or bodies have been found along shore near here.

REPLICA OF FIRST OHIO RIVER STEAMER STARTS LONG TRIP

Will Go From Pittsburgh to New Orleans to Commemorate First Steam Navigation on Western Rivers.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 3.—The people all along the Ohio river are on the lookout these days to see a little steamer puffing and wheezing its way down the stream. The little craft, which looks strange to eyes accustomed to the large and imposing steamboats of the present day, is the replica of the steamer "New Orleans," the first steamer to make the trip down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. The original trip was made just one hundred years ago and marked the beginning of steam navigation on America's inland rivers. To commemorate the centenary of that event the replica was built and yesterday it started from Pittsburgh on a trip to New Orleans. The boat is due to reach Cincinnati Sunday and on the following day there will be a celebration in her honor. Similar celebrations will be held at points along the entire route under the auspices of the various state and local historical societies.

The original "New Orleans," called at first the "Enterprise," was built at Marietta and sent to Pittsburgh to be provided with engine and stern wheel of Robert Fulton's design. The little boat of some 350 tons cost $10, 000 to build, and left Pittsburgh on its trial trip October 11, 1811. Thereafter for three years it made regular trips between New Orleans and Natchez, until it was wrecked.

LOCAL PEOPLE WERE AFFECTED BY CHANGE

Bankers' Life to Quit Old Assessment Plan And Adopt a Mutual Legal Reserve. Janesville policy holders in the Bankers' Life, of Des Moines, Iowa, are much excited by the decision of that company to change from the present assessment system to one of Mutual Legal Reserve, to take effect shortly. This will affect hundreds of local policy holders who will be most anxious to know just how they will be affected by the change. The Chicago Tribune printed the following article relative to the change which will be read with interest by the policy holders.

"The changing of the Bankers' Life of Des Moines from an assessment life insurance company to a mutual, legal reserve, old line company eliminates from the field one of the greatest exponents of assessment life insurance. The company was incorporated and began business in 1875. It has been notably successful in getting new business and now has more than $500,000,000 of insurance on its books. Its largest business is in Illinois, where it has more than $70,000,000 of insurance in force.

"The Bankers' Life has been economically managed at the home office and has had a remarkable mortality record. Edward A. Temple was the organizer of the plan on which it operated. He died early in 1909.

"With the large volume of assessment insurance on its books the present management has foreseen that in time the mortality of the old members would increase and that to keep up the stride it has been making and take care of the increased death loss would be impossible.

"The company under its new regime will be a mutual company paying no dividends, and will have no membership fees or guarantee notes. Its first policy is a ten year plan and will eliminate the present assessment certificate.

"The old business will not be disturbed, but all new business will be written on the old line plan. In a short time it will get out regular forms of policies on life and endowment plans. The 200,000 old members will be allowed to carry their insurance according to the assessment certificate and the charter and by-laws of the old company. Of course the assessment on this old business will have to be raised materially from year to year, as there will be no further new members on the assessment plan.

TO MAKE JANESVILLE DISTRIBUTING DEPOT

American Construction Company Outline Their Plans for Remodeling Cement Post Factory. In the following letter from J. H. Roushon, president of the American Construction company of Chicago, the plans of this company for the plant of the Cement Post company are made clear. This transfer was announced eight before last in the Gazette. The letter is as follows:

On October 20, 1911, the American Construction company of Chicago, purchased of the Southern Wisconsin Sand and Gravel company, the Janesville Cement Post company plant at Janesville, Wisconsin, which the American Construction company of Chicago will in the near future put into operation, manufacturing cement products for the building trades, and in connection with the plant, will establish their lumber yards and wood working plant on the same site, making this their distributing point for all classes of building materials for their work for this section of the country.

When the plant is in full running capacity, it will give steady employment to a large force of men.

A FORMER RESIDENT IS ILL IN ARIZONA

W. J. McIntyre, County Clerk Here Thirteen Years Ago, in Serious Condition at Phoenix. Word has been received here by L. M. Nelson that W. J. McIntyre, until several years ago a resident of Janesville, and who held the position of County Clerk here for six years, about thirteen years ago is seriously ill at his present home at Phoenix, Ariz.

Mr. McIntyre has been suffering for some time past with rheumatism which was aggravated some twenty weeks ago by an accident in which he was thrown down by the sudden starting of the horse while alighting from a carriage in which he had ridden with a neighbor. Since that time he has been confined to his home and has been under the care of a trained nurse. He is unable to move in his bed or to get up without aid, and is nearly helpless. On the card which he managed to write to Mr. Nelson he stated that he was "barely able to hold his own."

Many friends of Mr. McIntyre in this city will regret that he is enduring such suffering. He removed to Arizona in order to be with his wife who left this city six or seven years before he, compelled to do so by failing health. He had spent the winter months with her, remaining in Janesville the rest of the time until several years ago when he went to Phoenix to live.

MRS. MARGARET ALLEN DIED THIS MORNING

Was One of Earliest Settlers in Janesville, Having Come Here From Utica, N. Y., in 1844. Mrs. Margaret Allen, one of the earliest settlers in Rock County, and a resident of Janesville since 1844, passed into her last sleep at seven o'clock this morning, having reached the ripe old age of seventy-seven years. Her health has been gradually and steadily failing ever since she suffered an attack of pneumonia last winter while visiting her son in Oshkosh. She was taken suddenly worse Sunday and her relatives were summoned to her bedside, but only her son, George R. Allen, of Columbus, Ohio, of those living outside the city, was able to arrive before she died. She was conscious until six o'clock last night.

Mrs. Allen, whose maiden name was Margaret Roberts, was born March 25, 1833, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Roberts, in 1814, when she was six years old the family moved to Wisconsin. This was six years before a railway was built into Janesville and they came by way of the Erie canal and the Great Lakes to Racine, and thence by stage.

On September 25, 1855, ten years after the Roberts family arrived, Miss Margaret Roberts was married to Adolph G. Allen. The wedding, which was performed in Trinity Episcopal church, was one of the first to take place there. Mr. Allen was one of the early day clothing merchants and during the latter part of his life was an agent for the old Merchants Express company. He died, May 8, 1885.

The deceased leaves to mourn her loss five sisters, five children and ten grandchildren. The sisters are: Mrs. Sarah Jackson of this city; Mrs. Mary Wilde of Sheffield, England; Mrs. William Savers of Atkinson, Ill.; Mrs. Thomas Hekey of Eldon, Oklahoma; Mrs. George Stanhouse of Morges, Utah. One sister, Mrs. George Hekey, is dead. Her two brothers, John and Humphrey Roberts are also deceased.

Children of Mrs. Allen are: Arthur H. Allen of Oshkosh; Mrs. J. H. Dearborn; Mrs. Harriet Kaveland; and H. V. Allen of this city; and George R. Allen of Columbus, Ohio. One daughter, Charlotte, died in infancy.

Mrs. W. W. Willis. Rev. T. D. Williams officiated at the funeral of Mrs. W. W. Willis, which was held at her late home, 406 Locust street, on Thursday at 2:30. The pallbearers were Herman Sandow, J. L. Bear, Jas. A. Fathens, Fred Howe, and J. H. Bailey. Music was rendered by C. N. Vaukirk and Mrs. Geo. Paris, who gave several selections. The Women's Relief Corps attended in body and conducted the services at the cemetery.

Mrs. J. B. Stone. Lake Mills, Nov. 2.—Mrs. J. B. (Elizabeth) Stone, died this morning at 5:20 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. G. Greenwood. She was 81 and twenty minutes. Mr. and Mrs. Stone lived in Janesville forty years ago, when Mr. Stone was in the shoe and telegraph business.

HALL & HUEBEL

TESTIMONIAL FROM CLEVELAND WOMAN

Says Tona Vita Gave Her New Life And Strength. Mrs. Fred Collier, of 1192 Norwood road, Cleveland, makes the following statement in connection with "Tona Vita," the new tonic now being introduced in that city:

"I have been a nervous wreck the past eight or ten years; my condition daily grew alarming. I could not perform my household duties, was unfit for anything that required effort, and I thought my days were numbered.

"My digestion was very poor. The food I ate generally caused nausea, I suffered with stomach trouble and constipation. I frequently had headaches, pains in the back, and spells of dizziness. My heart became affected, and the least exertion or excitement would throw me in a fainting spell. Life became one unbroken period of misery, and I often declared I would be better off dead.

"I had given up all hope of ever recovering my health, when a neighbor advised me to try 'Tona Vita.' I bought a bottle and began taking it; the effect was instantaneous, as I began improving from the start. I now feel like a new person; in fact, I am as healthy and as happy as when a girl in my teens. I think 'Tona Vita' saved my life, and I recommend it as a medicine of wonderful value."

One of the physicians who are introducing "Tona Vita" in Cleveland, in connection with Mrs. Collier's case, said: "We are receiving hundreds of statements like this from Cleveland people, who have used the preparation. The chief value of 'Tona Vita' lies in the fact that it quickly responds to the needs of a badly debilitated body.

"That tired, dragging feeling, a sluggish mind and dull memory, depression of spirits, intense nervousness, palpitation of the heart, weak back, cold feet, bowel trouble and headaches are among the many symptoms of this debilitated condition from which thousands are now suffering.

"Most of the so-called kidney trouble, nearly all digestion, and fully half of the headaches can be attributed solely to a nervous debilitated condition of the body. 'Tona Vita' will positively remove this condition in an astonishingly short time.

Smith Drug Co. have secured the agency for 'Tona Vita' in Janesville, and the remarkable tonic is now on sale at their store.

GREYS TAKE FIRST PLACE IN LEAGUE

By Winning Three Straight Games Last Night Greys Hold First Place With a Percentage of .697.

At Hookett's alleys last night the Greys won three straight games from the Maroons, placing themselves at the head of the list. They have now won eight out of twelve games, giving them a percentage of .667, next to which comes the Cardinals with a percentage of .583. Showing fine form, the two teams started out with a very interesting and fast game ending with a difference in the score of but seven points. Although the Greys won the next two games also, the bowling was exciting all through and both teams did some fine rolling. Hookett for the Greys made the high score of the evening with 195 pins, while McCue rolled 181, making high for the Maroons.

Last night's scores were made as follows:

GREYS.
Cook, Capt.	163	154
Elfr	109	135
Campbell	150	138
Richter	177	132
Carle	167	144

McCue 181 | 133 |

Kueck 132 | 115 |

In the number of points won the Greys were only 128 ahead of the Maroons. The standing of the teams at present is as follows:

CHICAGO-MINNESOTA GAME TO BE CLOSE

betting indicates That Experts Think There is Little to Choose Between The Teams.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 3.—With the championship of the middle west depending in large measure upon the outcome of interest in tomorrow's football game between Chicago and Minnesota universities is intense. The game will be played on Northrup field and is expected to attract the largest crowd that ever attended a football contest here. The betting indicates that, in the opinion of the experts, there is little to choose between the two teams, each a record condition or their respective records up to date.

HARVARD-PRINCETON GAME IS TOMORROW

First Football Contest Between Two Teams Played in Princeton in Forty Years.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 3.—This quiet little village is teeming with excitement for tomorrow the local gridiron is to be the scene of the first football game that Harvard and Princeton universities have played in fifteen years. The town is gayly attired, and the streets are thronged with the "early birds." The pennant peddlers are already here with their "winning colors" of either university. Practically all the tickets for the game are sold and a record-breaking crowd is assured.

While sentiment in favor of the local university is strong, the betting odds indicate that the Harvard team will win the fray a slight favorite. The Crimson has made an excellent showing from the start of the season and it is generally conceded that the Orange and Black will have the hardest kind of a fight to gain the victory.

WOMAN WHO LOVES POLITICS

Charming Characteristics of the Wife of the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

A woman who had a great interest for visitors at Washington during the special session of congress was Mrs. Oscar W. Underwood, wife of the chairman of the committee on ways and means in the house of representatives. Mrs. Underwood loves politics and has been of great assistance to her husband during his public career. But she has little use for women's clubs and has no hobby except it be her devotion to her husband.

Mrs. Underwood is one of the best road women who have figured for many years in official Washington. Psychology and philosophy are her favorite subjects, but she also has a wholesome feminine fondness for a good novel. She has traveled widely and has the peculiar culture that is characteristic of the cosmopolitan combined with the traditional charm of the southern woman. There is a frank, open-hearted friendliness about her sunny smile that causes kind people to slide closer to her at receptions and thence the reserve of persons who are commonly reputed to be glacial.

BAR TOBACCO USING BEAUX

Two Hundred Washington Girls Set Out to Reform Young Men of Their Acquaintance.

Moved by the vivid pictures of the evils of the tobacco habit, as drawn by James J. Jeffreys of the Anti-Cigarette League, 200 young women, members of a Washington Christian Endeavor society have pledged themselves to forswear the society of all young men who use tobacco.

Mr. Jeffreys assailed tobacco because of its effect upon the morals, mentality and physique of those who use it.

"My dear girls," he said, "it is for you and others like you to reform the young men who think it mainly to use this weed. You can do more than I to fight this evil and I call upon you to do it. I ask you to search among your friends and when you find a young man who uses the weed make him cut it out or cut his acquaintance."

Following his address 200 girls agreed that until their young men friends resign themselves to the tobaccoless life they shall be boycotted socially.

Distant Dentists frequently speak highly of my work when shown them by Janesville people away from home. I say Distant Dentists, because you know cases often get a more impartial judicial decision when a "Change of Venue" is taken.

Whatever is the opinion expressed, The work will be good work if I do it for you.

BEGIN LAYING BRICK ON ACADEMY STREET

Expect to Have One Side of a Block Completed in Week's Time.

Brick-laying for the new pavement on North Academy street was begun today. The part lying west of the street railway tracks between Milwaukee and Wall streets will be completed and opened to traffic before work is started on any other part of the street. The sub-grade has been graded and rolled on both sides of the track. Contractors Rink & Schnell have about twenty men at work and by tomorrow noon or a little later expect to have the brick all laid on one side of the block and will then start to shingle the joints with cement. The street will not be open to travel for a week. A brick made to order has to be used along the edge of the car tracks and some delay is being experienced in securing these.

AMPUTATED FOOT OF WM. KINES YESTERDAY

Blood Poison Feared and Physicians Decided on Operation.

Feeling that lock-jaw might develop, the physicians caring for William Kines, the young man who was injured in a hunting accident, yesterday decided that an amputation of the wounded foot was necessary, and the operation was performed at Mercy hospital in the afternoon. It had been hoped that amputation could be avoided but the patient became worse after the wound had been dressed and the shot removed, and the physicians, after consultation, decided otherwise.

Dr. Waufile Reating Well: Dr. Waufile, who underwent an operation yesterday afternoon for the removal of an internal abscess, was reported this morning to be resting as well as could be expected and his chances of recovery are considered good.

LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The lecture on Christian Science which is to be given Monday evening at the Opera House will be a clear and simple statement of the fundamental principles of Christian Science. He is accredited by the First Church of Christ Scientist of Boston, Massachusetts.

PHENOMENAL SAVINGS ON FALL SHOES

Crown Cross. Making Unusual Price Reductions—Saving For Everyone.

Judge Sale in Elkhorn: County Judge J. W. Sals is at the Elkhorn court today where he is hearing a case at the request of Judge Lyon of Watworth county.

Starve to Gain Weight.

The fat one who has been cut out of meals galore will now rejoice. The last cure for thinness is to omit every other dinner. A man under such treatment by advice of an up-to-date physician has gained at the rate of two pounds a week. With Parisian specialists advising five meals a day for obesity it sounds as if the doctors liked change as much as the model-makers.

If you would be content, never borrow nor lend; this refers to trouble and money.—Puck.

LINK AND PIN. YARDMASTER HAS BEEN RE-INSTATED

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. In Position Again.

W. J. Kelly, Former Yardmaster at the Milwaukee Yards, Placed in Position Again.

With a view to reducing expenses on the road, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul officials removed all the yardmasters in their employ, except the ones in the larger towns—Milwaukee and Chicago.

As the work formerly performed by the yardmasters fell upon the shoulders of the switchmen and the station agent, the increase of work for them was more than they could handle successfully here in Janesville. Station Agent Fred W. Zimmerman was supposed to take the work in hand that Kelly usually did, and as the freight traffic of the road here has been steadily on the increase for the past month, Mr. Zimmerman and the switchmen in the yards could not handle the yardmaster's job to any satisfaction, and a complaint was made to the officials, and as a result the operator here received a message to the effect that former Yardmaster Kelly would again assume the office and that he should report for work tomorrow morning.

The message was hailed with enthusiasm by the station agent and the switchmen, and also by W. J. Kelly himself, as the past two weeks he has been working on the engine handling the sugar beet traffic.

Upon receipt of the message it was at first thought that all the yardmasters had been re-instated, but upon calling up Madison in regard to the matter the operator was informed that they had received no instructions to that effect and that the yardmaster there had had no notification of returning to work.

In places like Janesville the freight traffic is exceedingly heavy at all times of the year but at the present time the work in the yards has been above all expectations and consequently yard work along the line that a yardmaster was supposed to do fell upon the shoulders of men already overburdened with work, and the complaint followed with the above result.

REHBERG'S

Open Saturday Night Until 11.

YOU'VE learned in the past what to expect of us; we wouldn't have achieved what we have if our business policy was an open and shut game of "clothes for dollars." We're selling "clothes satisfaction" rather than just "clothes"—we're putting sincerity into our service and conscientiousness into our efforts. Just to show you what anyone else can isn't our way of doing business; we have manufacturers make just what you want to buy, rather than take what they have to sell and hope you'll like it. Take our fall overcoat for example—everything selected as you would approve of it. We made the names "Chesterfield," "full box," semi-fitted, etc., mean more than they generally do. And the utility coats—the slip-ons, the gaudy ones and the cravettes came in for just as much care. The prices run from $10 to $30, but we're particularly proud of what we can do for you

$20 AND $25

HEAVIER overcoats, belted back and kimono sleeve models, are well worth seeing; prices are $10 to $30

$15 Doesn't buy a "cheap" suit here. Rehberg's Royal are all wool, hand tailored garments of fine style and color.

YOU'LL see more new suit styles here this season than anywhere else, more than we have ever shown ourselves. Rich fabrics—and when it comes to colors we can hardly tell you just how much you can expect—rich warm tones that are putting in their first appearance this season—browns, brown oxfords, blues, blue oxfords, grays, tans and a lot of others. The woollens are decidedly novel, evincing the demand for newer and finer weaves. You'll find clothes here you wouldn't find anywhere else but at a very fine custom tailor. Prices are $10 to $30. Remarkable values here at $20 AND $25

YOUNG men with young tastes will find our clothes to be duplicates of theirs $10 to $30. Special values at $15

SPLENDID displays of trousers for men and young men, $2.50 and upwards. Real fine values at $3.50

YOU'LL want a lot of new haberdashery for fall and winter wear, merchandise of the finer sort such as we show here. Men's 6-button V-neck sweater coats at $3, $4, $5; very heavy shaker knits at $5. Handsome ready-to-wear shirts than ever, plain or plaid cords at $2, very fine effects at $1 and $1.50. Fine worsted union suits, special Saturday at $2.50. Plenty of gray gloves, fine Mocha or Glace, $1 and $1.50.

FLAT lasts and high box toes are running a "neck and neck" race for popularity—plenty of both kinds here—lasts to fit you and salesmen to see that you get them, $2.50 to $5.00, special values at $3.50 and $4.00. Great shoe store for boys, mothers seem to realize it. Prices $1.50 to $4.00, special values at $2.50.

HIGH cut button boots bid very-high for popular fancy—and they're getting it. Boots fashioned of buckskin, velvet and other fabrics bring out desirable effects, are extremely dressy and neat. $3.50, $4 and $5 for women.

The revival meetings at the M. E. church conducted by Evangelist J. A. Smith of Beloit, are still in progress and last night brought out the largest attendance since the meetings were instituted two weeks ago. Forty conversions have thus far been made.

Patrick Quigley, Jr., is shipping his household goods here from Freeport and the family will occupy his father's residence in the third ward.

So far this week about 6,000 western range sheep have come to the feeding yards here and placed on pasture near town. The shipments out of this station are nearly equal to the receipts.

ALL YOU NEED IS A CASCARET TONIGHT

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach, Coated Tongue or Constipated Bowels by Morning.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head and cheerfulness for months.

Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

Definition of Velocity.

Teacher—What is velocity, Johnny? Johnny—Velocity is what a chap lets go of a wasp with.

International Marriages.

There are five hundred American women in Europe who left their native land as the brides of so-called noblemen. Out of these, two hundred have been divorced or are separated from their husbands.

Daily Thought.

Memory is the cabinet of imagination, the treasury of reason, the registry of conscience, and the council chamber of thought.—Bastie.

Emanipated.

Agnes—"Our new cook is a soufflette." Gladys—"How does she work?" Agnes—"All right, but she bustles on being called a chef."

Would You Like An Income of $2,000
a Year?

If you are interested in making an investment where your money will be SAFEST and yield the LARGEST returns, $2,000 to $5,000 net annual profit on a matured orchard of only TEN ACRES, we'll be pleased to furnish you information about our developed or undeveloped land, or both, in our Sunnyside Orchards tracts in the Bitter Root Valley. There is so much to be said in favor of an investment of this kind that we cannot do it justice in this small space, but would be pleased to mail you literature on the subject.

Some people think that Apples and other fruits are all that is raised on these tracts, but this is a mistake, as all kinds of small vegetables are grown between the rows of fruit trees, and these in themselves bring in a large income, as there is a good market in the nearby towns for all kinds of vegetables, at the highest market prices. Some of our settlers go into the chicken business, as well as the growing of fruit and vegetables, and take the entire income of a well managed 10-acre farm in our tract, into account, it will give an industrious family an annual net income at the end of ten years of an amount of money anywhere from $2,000 to $5,000.

Write me for literature, it will place you under no obligations, and I will be very much pleased to call on you and talk the matter over.

The Sugar Vice and Its Ills.

LOTS of us condemn the cigarette habit, and point to the long list of ills that follow in its train, when perhaps all the time we ourselves are indulging in a habit almost as injurious—the intemperate eating of sugar. With the American people, the eating of sugar is almost a vice. Many are suffering from physical ills, directly traceable to the wrong consumption or over-consumption of sugar. So that those who want to keep their health up to par had better study a little this very ordinary article of diet, and not condemn those who use cigarettes inordinately, if they themselves are eating sugar unrestrainedly. For sugar can be a foe quite as deadly as the cigarette.

The system needs sugar in its digested form, for it is this that furnishes energy and heat. So that it is very essential that we give the system sugar properly. And it is this idea that leads people to give children, particularly, plenty of sugar. Because, argue they, the children by reason of their energy-consuming activity need it. But there is a right way and a wrong way for the system to receive sugar. And judging by the prevalence of certain diseases, most of us take sugar in the wrong way.

The word sugar means to the majority of us the sugar used on the table for sweetening tea and coffee, and in the kitchen for pies and pastries. But this is cane sugar, and only one of the many forms in which sugar appears in our food. We take sugar into the system, in many guises; and all, including the cane sugar, must be transformed by the digestive processes into levulose or grape sugar before it can be assimilated. Starch, which comprises the large bulk of our food, in that it is the chief constituent of potatoes, rice, the cereals, and all such food, must become grape sugar before it enters the body as nourishment. So you see, we are not dependent upon the so-called sugar of commerce for the sugar that enters the body.

The digestion of both the starch foods which ultimately become sugar, and cane sugar itself, begins in the mouth, is in abeyance in the stomach, and proceeds again in the intestines. If now, because of hasty eating, this digestion does not commence, the starch lies in the stomach an undigested mass, and the cane sugar sets up a fermentation. Sugar, candy, and sweets, whose chief ingredient is cane sugar, because they are easily soluble are rarely sufficiently mixed with the saliva to have this first, and very necessary, process of digestion started. Hence, a condition of a sour or acid stomach ensues with all its resultant ills.

This is perhaps the first harm done to us by the wrong eating of sugar. Then when these sugar elements reach the intestines, their digestion is again taken up. But they can only be digested as fast as they are absorbed. Now the system needs only so much sugar, and when it has enough, it stops absorbing. But we go on eating sugar in one form or another, and so it accumulates, undigested, here in the intestines, and gives rise to many most serious diseases. Some of the gravest ills from which we suffer have their beginning from this very cause. And that is the reason the sugar habit of the American people is becoming as injurious in its way as the cigarette habit. We consume quantities of candy, sweet drinks, pastry, ices, in all of which is cane sugar. And we consume them in such a way that this cane sugar rarely has any chance whatever for digestion in the mouth. Hence it causes acid stomach, catarrh, and numerous ills of this nature. But along with sweets of this character, we consume quantities of starchy food which must ultimately become sugar; and thus the system is overstocked with sugar, and we have diabetes and serious liver troubles.

We need to thoroughly inactivate both cane sugar and starchy foods in the mouth; and we need to eat no more sugar than the system needs, if we wish to have that abounding health that makes living a joy.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

"SOMEONE has said 'thinking' is just what nobody wishes to do. These words hold the explanation of the insufficiency and mediocrity of human existence, for truly no one wishes to reflect. How many even intelligent men and women live without ever performing this function?"

—Dora Melegari.

How often do you think?
"What a ridiculous question," you say. "Why, all the time, of course."
But do you?
I know I don't.

And before you are so cocksure what you do, please let me define what I mean by thinking.
Or better still, let someone else define it for me. "I am entirely convinced," says Arnold Bennett, "that what is more than anything else lacking in the life of the average, well intentioned man of today is the reflective mood. We do not reflect. I mean, we do not reflect upon genuinely important things; upon the direction in which we are going; upon what life is giving to us; upon the share which reason has in determining our actions; and upon the relation between our principle and our conduct."

Now that's the kind of thinking I mean.
And how much of it do you do?
You sit in a trolley car—by "you" I mean you and your next door neighbor—and I, all rolled into one, in a word, "the average person"—and you look out the window and dream. You see a white gown getting splattered with mud and you think you must have your white mink coat washed next week. From that your mind roves idly to a new frock you are going to have made and a letter you must write to your dressmaker, and then you think how warm it is for this time of year, and wonder if it's that which makes you so sleepy, or because you sat up rather later than usual to play cards, and you wonder what time so-and-so got home.

So your mind drifts.
But that isn't thinking any more than my paddling your hands in the water is rowing, or will propel your boat to any definite destination.

Of course, one must rest on one's oars some of the time, but on the other hand one must row occasionally if one wants to get anywhere.

And the men and women who do get somewhere in this world are the men and women who do so, and row some of the time instead of perpetually drifting, the men and women who do think occasionally instead of dreaming all the time.

Suppose the next time you are sitting in a trolley car with half an hour in which to dream you try thinking instead.
Concentrate on some important letter you have to write and think out just what you are going to say.

Try to recall some of the poetry you once learned.
Think over some big public question, such as woman's suffrage or prohibition, or the need of more stringent divorce laws, or the recall, and marshal all the arguments for and against.

Study the advertisements in the car. Decide which are good and which are poor and why.

Or, best of all, reflect upon some genuinely important things—upon the direction in which you are going—upon what life is giving you.

Of course, as Mr. Bennett warns us, "you will not have gone ten yards before your mind has skipped away under your very eye and is lurking around the corner with another subject."

But if it does, to quote once more, "bring it back by the scruff of the neck. Bring it back forty times if necessary."
If you do perhaps by and by you may get the habit of really thinking. Don't you want to try it?
"I will if you will."

Care of Shoes.

Evening shoes should be wrapped in tissue paper, and white shoes will turn yellow unless incased in blue paper. On most light shoe leather a spot of stain can be washed off, but where this is impossible or the shoe is too badly soiled it is better to dye it a darker color or black. Various shoe dyes can be purchased and with a renewal of color now and then you have practically provided for yourself a new pair of shoes.

The Rent Sheepskin.

The president of a college near Boston tells me that he received today a letter, the writer of which, a graduate, asked for a second diploma. He said that he had been engaged but that he and the lady of his choice had a falling out. The lady showed her displeasure by tearing his diploma into bits. "I am afraid," said the president, "he will have to go through life minus his diploma, but with a certified copy."—Boston Record.

The KITCHEN CABINET

PRESERVATIONS are not always by any means a source of happiness. Very often they are a discomfort and an annoyance.

PLAN NOW FOR CHRISTMAS.

There are very few of us who are always remembered at holiday time with things that they really want. We all know the horror of "smiling and being a villain," trying to be pleased over some gift, from a dear friend, that is absolutely useless to us and often worse than that, a perfect annoyance.

Would it not be wise to study this problem early and try to give to people whose tastes are not easily satisfied something edible, which they can at least dispose of without feeling like a criminal?

This is the season of canning and preserving; why not add a few extra glasses and jars to the store for Christmas gifts?

Such a gift may be made as dainty and attractive as one's taste and purse permits. The pretty little baskets to pack such gifts in are always welcome and they can be passed on with similar gifts.

One little woman makes many tiny glasses of jelly of different flavors, labeling and packing a half dozen for each invalid friend.

Tomato Soy.—Peel and chop a peck of ripe tomatoes, put over the fire with half a cup of whole cloves, half a cup of allspice, one cup of salt, one tablespoonful of pepper, three red peppers chopped, five onions also chopped. Cook for one hour; add a quart of vinegar and bottle.

Beet Relish.—Take a quart of cabbage chopped, a quart of boiled beets chopped fine, two cups of sugar, a tablespoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of pepper, half a teaspoon of red pepper, a cup of grated horseradish and vinegar enough to mix well and make of a smooth consistency. Can cold. Very nice for meats.

Gingered Peas.—Take ten ripe pears, six pounds of sugar, two lemons, a pound of ginger (candied) and water enough to cook. Slice the pears quite thin, and chop the ginger in small pieces; take the juice of two lemons; add the "rind" of one. Cook slowly one hour. This is especially nice served with tea cream.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist

DIET IN RHEUMATISM.

The reader who asks for advice in regard to diet in rheumatism will find several hints on this subject by going over the files of the paper in the public library. It is most important to avoid those foods which contribute to the production of uric acid—meat especially. Acids should also be avoided, except lemon, which may be taken hot without sugar in the morning, two hours before eating anything else. If milk is adapted an exclusive diet of it may be beneficial, but no two cases are alike. It is important to maintain free action of the skin, to avoid damp and chill, to maintain a good mental attitude, to drink two quarts or more of the purest water obtainable daily and to exercise systematically.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

A NAVAL VICTORY WITHOUT BLOODSHED.

By A. W. MACY.
In 1778 Captain Rathburne, commanding a little American vessel with twenty-five men and twelve four-pound guns, swooped down upon the island of New Providence with its nest of Tories and its British garrison. With a quick dash he landed, seized the forts, raised the American flag, released some American prisoners, and captured six British vessels. A privateer of sixteen guns lay at anchor in the port, and a British sloop-of-war hovered outside; but they were too surprised to do anything. The Tories armed themselves and attempted to capture Rathburne and his men, but changed their minds when he threatened to burn the town. He held the place two days. Then he spiked the guns, carried off the arms and ammunition, burned two of the captured ships and sailed away with the other four. Nor lost he a single man.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Right Method and Proportion of Materials For Good Pastry.

Menu.

By Alice E. Whitaker.

If pie can be said to have any special season of its own then this may be called the favored time. Increasing cool weather whets the appetite and makes it possible to eat pastry with less apprehension than in the summer and pie material is now plentiful, too.

The great pie belt is often mentioned but never located. Surely in New England pies are made in abundance although not in so great numbers as reported. The Southern housewife was always noted for her rich pastry and even the pioneer housekeeper in the west was wonderfully inventive in making fillings when all the familiar ingredients failed. So it may be said truthfully that all but dyspeptics eat pie more or less.

One who works with a heavy hand is not likely to make fine pastry for it requires a quick, deft touch. Much handling spoils its delicacy. All the materials must be cold and if at any time the paste becomes soft and greasy it must be put in a cold place. Yet I have seen a self-satisfied cook melt the lard before she added it to the flour. Presumably she did not know what good pastry is like.

The secret of making flaky pastry lies largely in enclosing air between the many layers made by much rolling and folding. But the term "rolling" is not an exact one, for the paste should never be rolled by passing the pin over the surface. On the contrary, it should be struck down and raised repeatedly over the paste with a quick motion thereby putting it in to the desired thickness. Work from you as much as possible.

Good pastry makers always keep the paste, while rolling and folding, in an oblong form and with square corners. The piece when put out in length three times its width, is then folded one-third under the center and one-third over. Now this square of dough formed of three layers, should be turned half way round with the open edges toward the worker. The putting out process is repeated two or three times for ordinary paste and seven times for puff paste. If there is any stiffness, or tendency to stick, set it away to chill and reamne the putting and folding later.

Always use pastry flour because bread flour requires more shortening to make a pie crust that will not crawl from the plate or bake hard. For plain pies, especially fruit pies, many cooks use a salt spoon of baking powder to each cup of flour but this does not make a flaky crust. For pies in general the paste depends on the folding to make it light.

Lard makes one that tastes a little better and bakes a richer color. For puff paste the butter is always washed in cold water to take away any traces of salt which tends to make a tough paste. When the butter becomes waxy it is ready to chill.

A paste that is almost as good as puff paste is not nearly as much work to make. Wash one quarter cup of butter and set on ice. To one and one-half cups of flour add one-quarter cup of lard and rub in with a wooden pastry fork. To use the fingers means to soften the lard and make the dough sticky. Mix with enough ice cold water to make a very stiff dough. Put it out into an oblong and also pat the butter into a similar shape, but smaller; this can be done on a floured board. Lay the butter in the center of the dough, then fold one end of the dough over and the other under. Pat out and fold in the manner described. Roll up the paste like a jelly roll and cut a slice from the end to roll out and fit the plate.

Pastidious pie makers always use puff paste for top crusts and rims, and plainer for the under. This is not always for the sake of economy for puff paste, weighted by the moist filling, cannot rise well. It is useless to try to make patties with any but puff paste but imitation patties are made of plainer paste fitted into small tins.

For all paste the usual proportion is one part of shortening to three parts of flour. To make a small pie use one

STANDING.

GDOWN-UPS are constantly telling children to "straighten up" and warning them of the dangers of stoop shoulders and hollow chests. The usual idea of correct standing, is that of the tin soldier attitude—head stiffly erect, chest protruding, weight on both feet. The pulse of the body should not be merely mechanically correct. It should be light, free, ready for action, like a little child at play.

The best test of standing is to take a full length side view in the mirror and rise on the toes. If correctly poised the body will come up in a perpendicular line without first bringing the weight forward on the feet. It will come down in a straight line without sinking back on the heels. If this simple exercise can not be taken without "coming forward" and "settling back" the first elementary principle of standing position is violated. The body is out of plumb. The center of gravity is in the wrong place. To be normal one must always be ready to rise up and down in a straight line, without any preliminary preparation. Settling the weight on the heels is the beginning of old age, whether one is seven or seventy.

This is a good exercise for the whole family to try. It will often be found that some of the younger children are beginning to settle back on the heels, while perhaps the grandfather and grandmother have maintained to advanced years correct standing pose. Imagine the top of the head is trying to touch the ceiling, gives bodily uplift. Tell children to imagine they are growing straight up—not tipping back, not leaning forward, but rising upward, like a pine tree, whose aspiring tip expresses the uplift of the whole tree toward the sky.

One—yes—less than one cent a cup! The aristocrat of all cocoas! Richest and most delightful to the taste! If you are not a constant drinker of cocoa the chances are that you have not tasted Van Houten's—properly made. Sent from Holland to your grocer—where you may get a can today for a quarter, that will go twice as far as the ordinary kind—and taste a lot better.

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher

Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams

BY WALT MASON

That fellow falls to please or charm who's always viewing with alarm.

Kickshaw hangs around our town, and wears a most depressing frown.

Our boasting schemes, our pouring cold water on our dreams.

"A boom is born, and then it dies," this most unpleasant old man cries, "and when it dies a lot of boys will get the blues."

And still our one horse village grows in spite of him and his kindred folk, who lean against our wall of brick, and chew the rag and kick.

And all that poor old Kickshaw gains by all his misery and pain, is just a frost where'er he wanders; in all our burys he has no friends.

And that's as much as you will gain if you devote your heart and brain to blocking wheels that ought to turn, and quenching fires that ought to burn.

The knacker has a claimy time; the folks regard him as a crime; they plug their ears to miss his cries, and hold a picnic when he dies.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

By H. L. RANN.

FOOTBALL.

Without the game of football, life at one of our modern colleges would be about as exhilarating as listening to a reading of the minutes of the preceding meeting.

It is a very enticing and perilous game. Our fair country is dotted with men who took the course in football and penmanship and who graduated with a new set of store teeth and a nose which is out of plumb with the wide, wide world.

After a fragrant quarrel has been planned to the icy bosom of Mother Earth a few times and carefully deflated by eight or ten intimate friends with biceps like the legs on a square piano, the leap to death from the top of the tent won't make his pulse move off a walk. The costume of a football player is a cross between the business suit of a doorman and the uniform of a mummy at a masquerade ball.

When the game is over he has to be taken down in sections, like a portable corn crib. As now played, the game of football is about as intelligible to the uninitiated as the epitaph on the tomb of a Hebrew king.

Highly educated is all right, but we would about as soon have a boy of ours unable to buck the line for forty yards without losing the principal parts of his physique as to have him emerge from college as poorly equipped to withstand the buffeting of this rude wide world as a tungsten lamp.

Soda crackers are extremely sensitive to moisture.

Before the advent of Uneeda Biscuit the only persons who ever tasted fresh, crisp soda crackers were the people in the bakeries.

Imagine their trip from bakery to your table; exposed to air and moisture—kept in grocers' boxes and finally in a paper bag on the shelf in your pantry. Could they be the same as they were the day they were baked?

Now that we have Uneeda Biscuit—we have perfectly baked soda crackers—perfectly kept.

No moisture can reach them—no contaminating influences can affect their flavor—their goodness is imprisoned only to be liberated by you for you when you open the package.

Always in the moisture proof package. Never sold in bulk. 5 cents a package.

IS RUSHING WORK ON NEW BUILDING

AT THEATRE

"Deep Purple."
Paul Armstrong, who has at once achieved distinction as a playwright through the remarkable success attending his latest effort, "The Deep Purple," has yet to put a bad woman into a play, nor has he ever evolved a discussion of sex problems. Among the plays we have had from him are "Salome Jane," which he based on Bret Harte's story of Salome Jane's Kiss; "The Heir to the Moorah;" "Allan Jimmy Valentine;" "Going Some;" "Blue Grass;" "St. Anne;" "The Renegade;" "Society and the Bull-dog;" and "The Supper of Rue." He is also the author of a number of one-act plays, and one of them, "A Blaze of Glory," has been called the most nearly perfect example of one-act drama yet written by an American.
"The Deep Purple" will be seen the Myers Theatre tonight.

Merry Mary.
Americans have ever been loyal to American plays and American authors, especially when they get it in the form of musical comedy. When the flag is waved there is always a cheer. There are various ways of waving the flag.

Harry Sheldon White has waved it with a charm which compels admiration from every true American and he has done this through the medium of his song farce which is a high class musical comedy in the highest sense of the word.

His farce, "Merry Mary," is considered by all critics to be the biggest hit in years.

The attraction, equipped with a superb production and a metropolitan cast together with the now famous Whitney Opera House "Tuxedo" chorus, will be the attraction at the Myers Theatre Tuesday, November 7.

Beautiful Passage.

A sweet young thing has written a novel. It is a wonderful performance. Take this passage: "All of a sudden the beautiful Allea continued to sit on the sands, gazing out upon the briny deep, on whose heaving bosom the tall ships went merrily by, freighted, ah, who can tell, with how much joy and sorrow and pine lumber and emigrants and hopes and selfish."—Boston Transcript.

Lions Almost Too Plentiful.

That there is an abundance of lions in central Africa is proved by these telegrams, said to have been sent recently by a railway station master to his division headquarters: "Please send further police protection. Men very brave, but less so when roaring begins." And "Please let 10 a. m. run up to the platform disregarding signals. Signalman up post, lion at bottom."

And That's History, Too.

CHAPTER VII.

Rabbits and Other Eggs.

Billy was sitting in the swing. Jimmy crawled over the fence and joined him.

"Miss Cecilia's dyeing me some Easter eggs," he said, "all blue and pink and green and yellow and every kind they like. I took her some of our hen's eggs and she is going to fix 'em for me an' they'll be just like rabbit's eggs. I reckon I'll have 'bout a million. I'll give you one," he added generously.

"I want more'n one," declared Billy, who was used to having the lion's share of everything.

"You all time talking 'bout you want more'n one egg," said Jimmy. "You 'bout the stinkiest Peter they is. Ain't you got no eggs? Get Miss Billy to give you some of hers and I'll take 'em over and ask Miss Cecilia to dye 'em for you 'cause you ain't 'qualified with her yet'."

"Aunt Minerva ain't got none 'cept what she put under a ol' hen for to set this mornin'."

"Can't you get 'em from under the ol' hen?" Miss Minerva is such a Christian woman, she ain't—"

"You done fool me 'bout that Tigris business befo'," interrupted Billy, "an' I got put to bed in the day-time."

"Well, she won't never miss two or three eggs," coaxed Jimmy. "How many did she put under the ol' hen?"

"She put fifteen," was the response, "an' I don't believe she'd want me to tech 'em."

"They're 'bout the prettiest eggs over was," continued the tempter, "all blue and pink and green, and 'bout a million kinds. They're just perzactly like rabbit's eggs."

"Me an' Wilkes Booth Lincoln ain't never hear teller no rabbit's eggs sence we's born," said Billy. "I don't believe rabbits lays eggs now."

"They don't lay 'em 'cept to Easter," said Jimmy. "Miss Cecilia 'splained it all to me and she's my Sunday-school teacher and rabbits is bound to lay eggs 'cause it's in the Bible and she's 'bout the prettiest 'splainer they is. I'm going over there now to see 'bout my eggs," and he made believe to leave the swing.

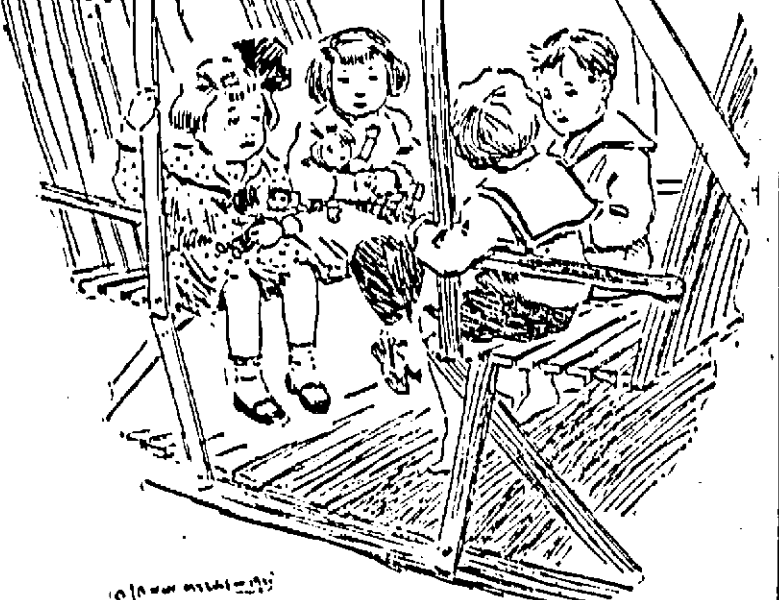

"Let's us slip round to the hen-house an' see what the ol' hen's a-doin'," suggested the sorely tempted Billy.

"Aunt Minerva is a-makin' me some night-shirts an' she ain't takin' no notice of nothin' else."

They tiptoed stealthily around the house to the back-yard, but found the hen-house door locked.

"Can't you get the key?" asked the younger child.

"Naw, I can't," replied the other boy, "but you can git in th'oo this."

here little hole what the chickens goes in at, when I watches for Aunt Minerva. I'll stand right here an' hol' my cap while you tech me the eggs. An' don't you take more'n five or six," he warned.

body were all that would go through. "Pull!" yelled the owner of the short fat legs. "I'm stuck and can't go no further. Pull me th'oo, Billy."

About this time the defrauded fowl flew from her nest and attempted to get out by her rightful exit. Finding it stopped up by a wriggling, squirming body she perched herself on the little boy's neck and flapped her enraged wings in his face.

"Pull!" yelled the child again, "help me th'oo, Billy, 'fore this fool chicken pecks all the meat off 'n my bones."

Billy grabbed the sticky limbs and gave a valient tug, but the body did not move an inch. Alas, Jimmy with his cargo of broken eggs was fast imprisoned.

"Pull again!" yelled the scared and angry child, "you 'bout the idjest idjet they is if you can't do no better 'n that."

Billy jerked with all his strength, but with no visible result.

"Pull harder! You no-count gump!" screamed the prisoner, bending off the hen with his hands.

The boy on the outside, who was strong for his years, braced himself and gave a mighty wrench of the other child's stout extremities. Jimmy howled in pain and gave his friend an energetic kick.

"Lemme go!" he shrieked, "you old impudent backbiter, I'm going to tell Miss Minerva you pulled my legs out by the roots."

A small portion of the prisoner's blouse was visible. Billy caught hold of it and gave a strong jerk. There was a sound of ripping and tearing and the older boy fell sprawling on his back with a goodly portion of the younger child's raiment in his hands.

"Now see what you done," yelled the victim of his energy, "you ain't got the sense of a buffalo gnat. Oh, oh! This hole is 'bout to cut my stomach open."

"Hush, Jimmy!" warned the other child. "Don't make no such noise. Aunt Minerva 'll hear you."

"I want her to hear me," screamed Jimmy. "You 'd like me to stay stuck in a chicken hole all night. Oh! oh! oh!"

The noise did indeed bring Billy's aunt out on a tour of investigation. She had to knock a plank off the hen-house with an axe before Jimmy's release could be accomplished. He was lifted down, red, angry, sticky, and perspiring, and was indeed a sight to behold.

"Billy got to all time porpose something to get little boys in trouble," he growled, "and got to all time get 'em stuck in a hole in a chicken house."

"My nephew's name is William," corrected she.

"You porposed this here yo'self!" cried an indignant Billy. "Me an' Wilkes Booth Lincoln, you know nothin' 't all 'bout no rabbit's eggs sence we's born."

"It doesn't matter who porposed it," said his aunt firmly. "You are going to be punished, William. I have just finished one of your night-shirts. Come with me and put it on and go to bed."

Jimmy, you go home and show yourself to your mother."

"Pick up yo' shirt-tail offer the ground what I tore off, Jimmy," advised Billy, "an' take it home to yo' ma. Aunt Minerva," he pleaded, following mournfully behind her, "please don't put me to bed; the major he don't go to bed no dutymore; I won't never get me no mo' eggs to make rabbit's eggs outer."

CHAPTER VIII.

Tellers of Tales.

The days flew rapidly by. Miss Minerva usually attempted to train Billy all the morning, and by the mid-day dinner hour she was so exhausted that she was glad to let him play in the front yard during the afternoon.

Here he was often joined by the three children whose acquaintance he had made the day after his arrival, and the quartet became staunch friends and chums.

All four were sitting in the swing one warm spring day, under the surveillance of Billy's aunt, sewing on the veranda.

"Let's tell tales," suggested Jimmy. "All right," agreed Frances. "I'll tell the first. Once there's—"

"Naw, you ain't neither," interrupted the little boy. "You all time talking 'bout you going to tell the first tale. I'm going to tell the first tale myself. One time they is—"

"No, you are not either," said Linn positively. "Frances is a girl and she ought to be the first if she wants to. Don't you think so, Billy?"

"Yes, I does," championed her, "go on, Frances."

That little girl, thus encouraged, preceeded '65 'Gill the first tale. "Once there 's a man named Mr. Ellsah, he had a friend named Mr. Ellsah, so his mantelpiece fell on top of his head and make him perfectly bald; he hasn't got a single hair and he hasn't got any money, 'cause mama read me 'bout he ranted his garments, which is clothes, 'cause he didn't have none at all what belong to him. I 'spos' he just rented him a shirt and a pair o' breeches and wore 'em next to his hide 'thout no undershirt at all. He was dreadful poor and had a miserable time and mean Mr. Per'dventure took him up on a high mountain and left him, so when he come down some bad little children say, 'Go 'long back, bald head!' and they make pock-mocks on him. Seems like everybody treat him bad, so he cuss 'em, so I never see anybody with a bald head 'thout I run, 'cause I don't want to get cussed. So two Teddy bears come out of the woods and ate up forty-two hundred of 'em."

"Why, Frances," reproved Linn, "you always get things wrong. I don't believe they ate up that many children."

"Yes, they did too," championed Jimmy. "'cause it's in the Bible and Miss Cecilia 'splained all 'bout it to me, and she's our Sunday school teacher and 'bout the bullyest 'splainer they is. Them Teddy bears ate up 'bout a million children, which is all the little boys and girls two Teddy bears can hold at a time."

"I knows a man what ain't got no hair 't all on his head," remarked Billy. A GREAT DISCOVERY

Certain Ingredients That Really Promote Hair Growth When Properly Combined.

Research is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its natural nourishment, and also creates a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarbin, although not a coloring matter or dye, is a well-known ingredient for restoring the hair to its natural color, when the loss of hair has been caused by a disease of the scalp.

These ingredients in proper combination, with alcohol added as a stimulant and for its well-defined nourishing properties, perfect perhaps the most effective remedy that is known for scalp and hair troubles.

We have a remedy which is chiefly composed of these ingredients, in combination with other extremely valuable medicinal agents. We guarantee it to positively cure dandruff and to grow hair, even though the scalp is spots is bare of hair. If there is any vitality left in the roots, it will positively cure baldness, or we will refund your money. If the scalp has a glazed, shiny appearance, it's an indication that baldness is permanent, but in other instances we believe baldness is curable.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Rosell "33" Hair Tonic. If it does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has effected a positive cure in 93% of cases where put to a practical test.

Rosell "33" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike, and we think, in every particular, better than anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better guarantee to give you. Remember, you can obtain Rosell Remedies in Jansville only at our store—The Rosell Store, The South Drug Co., 14 West Milwaukee St. Jansville, Wis.

It's Me for Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and Calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing laxative.

No griping is the keynote of these little sugar-coated tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action.

It is easy to compel bowel and liver activity for a time with calomel and nasty, sickening, griping castor oil, but the after effects are dangerous, and the real cause of the trouble is often not even touched.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are so easy to take that children do not regard them as "medicine" at all.

They never gripe.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Olive Tablets at bedtime. They're perfectly harmless.

Thousands take one every night just to keep right. Try them.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a laxative movement all its own."

All druggists sell Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets in convenient pocket packages, at 10c and 25c.

BUTTONHOLE CUTTER

Little Dagger Pierces Cloth to Any Width Desired.

A most ingenious and effective button-hole cutter has been designed by an Indiana man. It works with the greatest rapidity, yet each hole is pierced to exactly the same width as the button, unless, of course, it is desired that the holes be of different sizes. A small, thin metal dagger has corrugations running along the center and tapers from its point to a width of nearly an inch. A clip moves up and down on the corrugations, yet the light enough to remain stationary, unless unusual pressure is applied. It is this clip which regulates the size of the hole, and when it is adjusted the seamstress need not watch carefully to see that each aperture is the same width, as she must do in making them with buttonhole scissors. All she need do is to thrust the dagger through the cloth up to the clip, which forms a hole, and there is the buttonhole in a twinkling.

Father IV:1-13.

Golden Text—The Lord preserveth all them that love him, Ps. cxlv:20.
(1.) Verses 1-3—In what city did the events of this lesson occur?

(2.) What were the circumstances which caused Mordecai to rend his clothes and put on sackcloth?

(3.) Why would it ever or never be right, no matter how awful the calamity, for a man of God in these days to experience or show such great grief as Mordecai and the Jews did?

(4.) What are the benefits of prayer and fasting, in the presence of an impending calamity?

(5.) How did the actions of Mordecai suggest that we should never give up trying to the utmost, to prevent any impending calamity?

(6.) Verses 4-8—Who was Esther, and how came she to be the wife of this Persian King?

(7.) Is grief as necessary as joy in the life of every person? Why or why not?

(8.) Is it always right for us "to weep with them that weep"?

(9.) What in substance was the decree which had been issued against the Jews?

(10.) From the actions of Haman, what would you say is the strongest passion which makes men cruel and vindictive?

(11.) Verses 10-12—What were Esther's reasons for not wanting to go in unto the king, with the request to save her people?

(12.) What were probably the reasons for attaching the death penalty to all who should enter the king's inner court unbidden by him?

(13.) What if any reason is there to suppose that, as Esther had not been called by the king for thirty days, Haman had been working some scheme to keep them apart?

(14.) Verses 13-14—Why was it probable if there had been no interference with Haman's plans, that Esther would have been slain with the rest of the Jews?

(15.) In carrying out his purpose has God generally more than one plan with which to do it? If so, give an example.

(16.) Was it true that Esther had been, in the providence of God, placed upon the throne for this crisis, and in it also true that God has a special purpose in life for every person? Give your reasons.

(17.) Verses 15-17—In what respects did Esther show the spirit of a heroine, a martyr and a wise woman?

(18.) Are such noble qualities as Esther possessed possible for every body? Give your reasons.

(19.) What is the benefit of getting others to join us in fasting and prayer, when we anticipate a great calamity? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(20.) Chap. v:1-3 What is the difference between a coward and a brave man?

(21.) Does God ever disappoint a courageous man?

HE PLANNED HIS OWN DEATH

How Sir William Hankford 500 Years Ago Evaded Law Against Committing Suicide.

Suicides often adopt ingenious methods, but the art of the feto do seems not to have advanced materially during the centuries. The modern case of a heavily insured broker who on a faked hunting trip stood bare-legged in a quagmire for hours and willfully contracted a fatal pneumonia is matched in cleverness by one 500 years old.

The following facts are well vouched for, and indeed were never questioned, says the Green Bag. Sir William Hankford, a judge of the king's bench in the reign of Edward III, Henry IV, Henry V and Henry VI, and at the time of his death chief justice of England, was a man of melancholy temperament.

He seems to have contemplated suicide the greater part of his long life and during his later years the idea became a fixed purpose. The act was of peculiarly serious consequences in those days for the reason that the law treated it as a capital crime. The offender was buried at the cross roads, with a stake driven through his body, and all his goods and property were forfeited to the crown, to the utter ruin of his family.

Hankford made good use of his wit and succeeded in accomplishing his purpose without incurring either unpleasant penalty. He gave open instructions to his gamekeeper, who had been troubled with poachers in the deer preserve, to challenge all trespassers in the future and to shoot to kill if they would not stand and give an account.

One dark night he purposely crossed the keeper's path, and upon challenge made motions of resistance and escape. The faithful servant, failing to recognize his master, followed instruction to the letter, as was expected of him, and Sir William fell dead in his tracks. The whole truth of the affair was common knowledge, but it was impossible to establish a case of suicide by legal proof. The servant was protected by his instructions. Hankford had honorable burial and his estate passed to those whose interests as heirs he had so wisely considered.

The Iron Crown of Italy.
The historic iron crown of Italy has played a romantic role in the history of the peninsula. It was made in the year 591 by the command, it is said, of Theodolinda, the widow of a Lombard king, on the occasion of her marriage to a duke of Turin.

The crown is of iron overlaid with gilt. Its significance was supposed to lay in the fact that the weight of royalty could never be lightened by its splendid exterior. The iron of the inner portion was traditionally held to be one of the long nails used at the crucifixion.

For a long time the crown was in the keeping of the famous monastery at Monza. In 774 it was brought forth to be placed upon the head of Charlemagne as "King of the Lombards," and on later occasions it figured in the triumphs of Frederick IV and Charles V. Finally in the presence of all the representatives of state, the foreign envoys and princes and officers, Napoleon Bonaparte solemnly united it to the crown of France.

The crown belongs to the state, and the custodian of it is the legitimate representative of the basilica of Monza. The title of "grand custodian," however, pertains to the head of the order of Cavaliers.—Harper's Weekly.

Light of the Firefly.

The statement that the light of fireflies and other phosphorescent animals is produced without any sensible degree of heat has often been repeated without any information as to the quantity of heat that would be required to produce a similar amount of light by artificial methods. This information is supplied by Professor McIntosh. He says that a temperature approaching 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit would be necessary to make a light equivalent to that emitted by an ordinary firefly. The enormous waste in all industrial methods of producing light is a matter of common knowledge, and the example of the firefly remains unimitated by man. The very simplicity of the mechanism employed by nature in phosphorescent animals is baffling.—Harper's Weekly.
